

Soaring high above the crowd, the Gruyeres give a run-of-the-mill event space a fun, out of the ordinary look. Simple eye-catching shapes draw the eye upwards and add a sense of wonder to the occasion.

Free-form fabric structures are stretched and suspended during installation to create and transform dynamic space. Whether you rig the form yourself using our easy assembly instruction or you hire Pink Inc.'s rigging and installation crew, you can always bet on fabric décor to provide a unique look and festive event atmosphere.

Suspended tension fabric structures transform your tent interior from ordinary to extraordinary! Combine various stretched shapes to make a bold statement—and give event attendees a truly memorable experience.

The Gruyere is a large structure with holes cut into the fabric (think cheese!). Primarily created in bright colors with complementary colorful edging, these majestic shapes can be rigged flat for a stage set or more sculpturally. Take a look at the smaller structures in the center of the stage and imagine the possibilities!
