

Pink Inc.'s Screen Arch commands attention at the Bank of America Ice Skating Event. This freestanding entryway defines space while affording a great branding opportunity - printed fabric. Digital dye-sublimation printing is long lasting on our stretch fabrics.

Rental stage sets and backdrops - Pink Inc.'s easy-to-assemble freestanding Screen Arches are the perfect surface for capturing your projected images. Lighting designers love our fabric screens!

When working with Tension Fabric Structures, a little branding can go a long way. The Screen Arches shown here at the Agenda XPO conference show just what we mean. Printing some areas while using PMS matched color fabric for the others keeps your cost down, while keeping your impact high.

Printed fabric adds colorful photo-real photographs or logos branding your fabric structure for a trade show display, event entranceway or signage. Dye-sublimation printing is a permanent solution for spandex fabric structures.
