

This grand fabric structure is truly unique. It is also easy to rig—on a circle or six points at the top and weighted bottom. Folds down small for cost-effective shipping, storage, drayage, and labor. A good green choice for event professionals and available for rent in several sizes.

Here five Tree of Life structures were used to magically transform a convention center into a dynamic, artistic event space.

Pink Inc.'s Tree of Life folds up and stores small, but when set up, it explodes into a grand fabric sculpture. Here is the 30' wide and 20' tall structure in a trade show booth suspended to truss.

Lighting creates dynamic effects on tension fabric structures as the stretch shapes suspend and capture the light to project branding and other images and graphics. The Tree of Life easily fills and transforms large event spaces, creating an attention-getting focal point at tradeshow, corporate meetings, conferences, and other events.
